CONTINUE CLASH OVER SPUD LAW IN LEGISLATURE

Majority Report Recommends Shipment of Potatoes in Bags Without Branding.

BOISE, Jan. 30. (AP)—The clash over the bill proposing modification of the potato grading and branding law continued today and a dual report came from the senate agricultural committee on the measure.

The majority report recommended passage of the bill permitting shipment of potatoes in unbranded bags and the minority report opposed it.

Neither house had a subject of major business before it and quickly declared calendars. The senate passed the bill by Neffan, (Canyon,) giving the Nazarene colony at Nampa, the privilege of having all but one district non-residents of Idaho.

Senators Leslie, Boundary, and Strechafer, Payette, introduced a bill intended to lighten state prohibition laws by making possession of liquor making equipment a misdemanor.

A bill which would abolish all sittings of the supreme court outside of Boise was introduced in the house by the appropriations committee and will be accompanied tomorrow by a bill which would abolish the law libraries at Lewiston and Pocatello. A saving of $15,000 a beinnium was claimed for the measures. Both measures were advocated in the report of the public institutions improvement board.

Penalize Stockmen.

The house passed a bill which would penalize stockmen for permitting low grade bulls on public ranges and a bill revising probate court fees. The latter measure was sponsored by the judiciary committee of the state bar association.

Two educational comittee bills were introduced: one to permit districts without high schools to pay for transportation of pupils to accredited schools in other districts provided that not less than five students are concerned and the other providing for tuition transfers when students move with parents to another district.

A group of ministers and representatives of Boise city churches protested to the judiciary committee against enactment of the so-called "Reno bill" liberalizing divorce procedure in Idaho.

Crowded business prevented a committee hearing but delegates were told a date would be set soon for the churchmen to appear. The bill was introduced in the senate yesterday.

"Revenue Not Wanted"

Spokesmen for the delegation declared the bill "purely a bid for revenue of a kind this state does not want."

"It paves the way for liberalizing of statutes against crime as is being advocated in Nevada where opposition to liquor and gambling is almost forgotten," they said. "We will not oppose to clarify the present somewhat contradictory law but we certainly shall oppose any measure which places us in the business of bidding for divorces."

The prohibition bill states that the owner or any employe found in possession of a "still conveyance, device, utensil or material used, designed or intended for unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor" would be subject to prosecution on a misdemeanor charge and be liable to a fine of $100 to $1000 and a sentence of 60 to 180 days in jail, this penalty places the violation in the class of indictable misdemeanors and arbitrarily designates district court for trial.

As concluding the bill provides that guilty persons must pay the cost of prosecution.

A bill to postpone the auto license collection dates from February 1 to April 1 was prepared for introduction tomorrow with the probability it may be passed immediately under suspension of rules.

The bill was prepared by Fred E. Lockes who said its enactment probably would increase gas taxes by permitting operation of many cars during the winter which otherwise would be left in garages until late spring.

No Support for Repeal.

BOISE, Jan. 30. (AP)—The corporation committee of the Idaho senate listened to a storm of opposition to repeal of the franchise laws but found no support from repeal save from its 65% members.

The bill provides for repeal of the law giving the public utilities commission the right of granting franchises to public utilities companies. The attack on the bill came from several sources. John Blair, Sokane attorney for Jerome J. Brumbeller of Spokane, who has applied for a franchise to bring natural gas from Montana into north Idaho, said investors backing the enterprise were to spend $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 on the project and they would hesitate if the franchise laws were repealed.

EXTENSION ON MEXICAN DEBT

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—A new agreement for settlement of the Mexican debt was gained today to permit postponement of gold payments for two years because of the sharp shrinkage in the price of silver, which has impaired Mexico's capacity to pay.

Another feature of the latest plan for settlement of the long standing debt, amounting to approximately $700,000,000, agreed on July 25, 1930, were retained in the new agreement signed today by Monte de Oca, Mexican minister of finance, and Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the International committee of bankers on Mexico.

SAYS NO ONE SHOULD INFLUENCE REPORT

Loesch Believes Enforcement Report Will be Election Issue.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. (AP)—Frank J. Loesch, of Chicago, a member of the Wickersham commission, declared today that neither President Hoover nor anyone else sought to influence the commission on its report on prohibition. In his individual report Loesch recommended modification of the 18th amendment to give congress the right to legislate on the entire subject of prohibition.

He said he believed the report would be an issue in the 1932 election.

He did not amplify this statement but said although that the work of the commission by centering public attention on prohibition would lead to the adoption of some plan other than that now in force for handling the liquor traffic.

The commission recommended the appropriation for additional sums for enforcement, he said, because in its opinion it was vitally necessary for every enforcement effort to be made during this time the law is in effect. Revision is the one thing the report will probably accomplish.

MAKES LOW SCORE

BRACKENRIDGE PARK, SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 30. (AP)—Densmore Schute, young Ohio professional, who won first prize of $1500 in last year's Texas open tournament, evidently has comeback to claim his own. CANADIAN PREMIER ARRIVES IN CAPITAL

Makes First Visit in Four Years; No Formal Matters Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The prime minister of Canada and the president of the United States clasped hands in the White House today for the first time in nearly four years.

Arriving shortly after noon, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada was formally welcomed to the capitol by President Hoover at the White House.

The call there was a brief and formal one, however, a dinner by the president in honor of Mr. Bennett tonight having been arranged for a more lengthy meeting between the two statesmen.

No Formal Matters.

Meanwhile President Hoover said, at his semi-weekly press conference, that he had been "very glad to welcome the Canadian premier."

"We have no formal matters under discussion," he added.

"We are mutually interested in the common welfare of our people. Informal conversation on the problems of the future always leads to a better understanding. I consider it a great compliment that Mr. Bennett has found it possible to come to Washington.

The Canadian premier talked for awhile today with Secretary Stimpson but no word was given as to the subject of the conversation.

WORKING OVER FOR BOXING REGULATIONS

New Members of California Commission Meet Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30. (AP)—California's boxing rules will be given a thorough working over here tomorrow by the new members of the state athletic commission.

In his capacity as commissioner, Robert Edgren will present a complete redraft of the rules and orders that have been in effect since the sport was legalized. He will suggest adoption of a stringent code. Among the proposals are:

1. Elimination of "option" contracts whereby promoters retain indefinite control of boxers' services.

2. Instructions to referees to stay away from training gymnasiums and managers and seconds of fighters appearing on same card as referee.

3. Protection of boxers purses and investigation of managers.

4. Strict physical examinations of boxers.

5. Commission physician to be stationed at ringside.

6. Boxers to have written contracts with managers.

MAKE BIG JUMP.

BIG PINE RECREATION CAMP, Calif., Jan. 30. (AP)—Ralf Engen, Salt Lake City, and Lars Haugen, Lake Taho, Calif., tied at 231 feet today for a new world's record ski jump at the Southern California winter sports carnival here. The former record was made by Henry Hall, who jumped 229 feet in 1925.

EVERY THING IS DENIED BY ILSE IN BOMB CASE

Claims He Is the Victim of a "Frame Up;" Big Argument Over Admission of Testimony.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30. (AP)—Wholesale denials of every allegation against him in connection with the attempted bombing of the Cowles Publishing company building in Spokane were voiced today by Henry Ilse, who accused the Spokane Democratic association of "attempting to frame him."

The former Spokane fireman and Thomas Boyle are charged by the state with conspiring to dynamite the newspaper offices by shipping a dynamite-filled trunk. Boyle, the state charges, rechecked the trunk from Seattle to Spokane.

Called to the stand by Alfred Stern, defense counsel, Ilse recounted how he ran afoul of the democratic association and mentioned the Spokane Chronicle and the Spokesman-Review as being strong republican newspapers. He said it was during election trouble in the state.

I. M. Golden, assistant district attorney, objected strenuously at this time.

Argue Over Testimony.

For nearly 30 minutes defense and prosecution argued over admission of Ilse's testimony, the state contending the defense "had not laid proper foundation for the introduction of evidence tending to show the defendant was a frame-up victim." Judge Paris sustained the state objections and the defense counsel was forced to omit further testimony.

Stern asked Ilse if he ever saw the dynamite-filled trunk.

"Never," Ilse replied.

"Did you ever see the dynamite fuse, detonating caps and Spokane newspapers in the trunk?"

"Never Saw Trunk."

"Never until after my arrest."

"Did you ship a trunk from the Ferry building November 1, 1930, addressed to Seattle?"

"Did you ever write a postcard and place it in the trunk, stating 'another will follow tomorrow'?"

Virtually every question Stern asked concerning meeting Boyle, answering an advertisement inserted by Boyle asking for employment, talking in front of Boyle's home and taking Boyle to his room allegedly to map out the alleged plot, were denied by the defendant with "absolutely not."

Causes Commotion.

Ilse caused considerable commotion in the courtroom by asking Judge Paris "do you accept the whole truth. If you accept the whole truth, all right."

At another point he asked if the prosecution was "afraid of the true testimony."

Two character witnesses were called, who said they had known him for several years as a good "character." The trial will be resumed Monday.

MILLION DOLLARS TO IMPROVE ROADS

Col. C. J. Chaffins of Northern District Tells of Plans.

Col. C. J. Chaffins, Coeur d'Alene, district road engineer, announced in Wallace Friday that more than $1,000,000 will be spent by federal and state governments in northern Idaho for road improvements during the next year.

In announcing the huge outlay, Col. Chaffins said that he had notified the Ogden federal highway department that work would be started as soon as weather conditions permit, probably by March 1.

Chief among the improvements listed will be the elimination and improvement of curves and hichway in the Fourth of July canyon. Three sections of the Palouse highway are to be improved and the Plummer-St. Maries road will be improved in two sections. The North and South highway in the vicinity of Driftwood and also near Harrison will be improved.

The work listed above will be carried on by funds made up of 60 per cent federal money and 40 per cent emergency money. The work will all be under state supervision.

The Copeland-Eastport highway improvement project is 100 per cent forest service, Col. Chaffins said, explaining that the costs would be born entirely by the forest service.

The Pine Creek-St. Maries highway has been placed on the state system but there has been no appropriation made.

TO FILE CHARGES AGAINST CUTTER

LaGuardia Says Serious Counts Will be Made Against Patrol Crew.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Serious charges are to be filed with coast guard headquarters against the crew of the patrol boat that seized the fishing schooner "Good Luck" off New York Monday night, Representative LaGuardia (rep. N. Y.) announced tonight after arranging for a conference tomorrow with Rear Admiral F. C. Bullard, coast guard commandant. He said the Mid-Atlantic Fishing association had brought the matter to his attention.

The New Yorker termed the charges "serious, involving more than a violation of rum and regulations." He said the master of the schooner had been a fisherman for more than 20 years and asserted "he is not a rum runner."

Reports received by LaGuardia said that no liquor was found aboard the vessel which was seized in the narrows.

LEVINSKI WINS.

SUES CHURCH FOR WIFE AFFECTIONS

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Jan. 30. (AP)—A former member of the now or reformed Mennanite church entered suit today in court here for $2000 damages against a dozen officials and members of the church, charging alienation of his wife's affection.

Adin S. Shank, formerly of Zullinger, Pa., but now of Salt Lake City, Utah, filed suit, which is based on the refusal of his wife to live with him after his excommunication or expulsion from the church. Although the complaint makes no mention of details a previous action, which was withdrawn, allegedl Mrs. Shank acted at the instance of church officials in severing relations with her husband.

CASE FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

Body of Dead Air Mail Pilot Is Brought to Portland.

PORTLAND, Jan. 30. (AP)—Funeral services for Walter E. Case, air mail pilot who crashed to death on Baldy mountain last week, will be held here Monday afternoon.

The body of the dead pilot was brought out early today by a rescue party that tolled for 26 hours in the face of bitter winds to reach the wrecked plane and return to Skye, the nearest settlement.

Case left Portland at 6:30 a. m. January 22 to take 250 pounds of mail to Pasco, Wash. He was last heard from at 7:04 that morning when he radioed the Portland airport he was flying above the outskirts of Portland, evidently confused by fog. The first indication of his fate came Wednesday when Al Davis, Varney pilot, sighted the wrecked plane.

Rescue parties were immediately sent out and reached Pale yesterday. They found Case in the cockpit of the plane, dead. The dashboard clock stopped at 7:07.

Many Injuries.

Physicians said Case's nose was broken and a severe bruise on his forehead indicated a skull fracture. Both legs were broken in several places.

All mail carried was found intact.

Case was born in Minnesota but came to Oregon while a boy. He entered the army flying service in 1917 and from March, 1918, to August, 1918, he was a flying instructor in France. From August, 1918, to January, 1919, he was a member of the 93rd aero pursuit squadron.

He was credited with bringing down three enemy planes while in combat. He himself was shot down by an enemy plane over the Toule sector but escaped with minor injuries.

He had served with both the West Coast Air Transport corporation and the Varney Air Lines.

He is survived by his widow of Portland; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Case; a brother, Everett, and a sister, Rachel, all of Los Angeles.

SHORT SESSION AT COUNCIL MEETING

Little business was taken up at the city council meeting in its short session in the city hall Friday night. The meeting was a session postponed from Monday because of the death of C. A. Keating, former city treasurer.

The appointment of C. A. Magnuson, who was named city treasurer to fill the vacancy Friday afternoon by Mayor James Munson was approved by the council. An audit of the books for the past seven years was authorized and L. W. Defenbach was named to do the work.

The council voted to have the old bridge across the South Fork of the Coeur d'Alene river near the Wallace-Kellogg highway at the city limits taken out. Paul Graffenberger and an associate were awarded the work.

MUST HAVE NEW LICENSES SUNDAY

Harry Hoban, automobile license clerk in the county assessor's office, announced Friday night that a total of $23,353.10 has been collected in Shoshone county for automobile licenses during 1931. There have been 1163 license plates issued. Friday was the busiest day for the license department, which issued 113 licenses for total receipts of $2351.60.

Today is the last day to purchase 1931 plates, as the February 1 limit will go in effect Sunday. Officials, both county and state, are unanimous in asserting the law will be strictly enforced.

MUSSOLINI IS ATTACKED BY SENATOR HEFLIN

Italian Premier Says He Has "Forgotten" Statement; Prepare for Court Martial.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Premier Mussolini had "already forgotten" Major General Smedley D. Butler's Philadelphia speech tonight but an approaching court martial forcibly recalled it to the fighting marine.

While the first ripple of comment swept across congressional waters preparations went ahead for the prosecution and defense of the marine who distinguished himself in carrying the battles of the sea soldiers to their enemies all around the world.

Mussolini cabled the Italian ambassador, De Mertino, that he had felt sure he "would obtain just and prompt redress from the fairness, loyalty and friendship of the American government."

He instructed the ambassador to "communicate to the federal government that I consider closed the incident which, for my part, I have already forgotten."

In the senate, Heflin of Alabma, demanded that before Butler was disciplined an investigation be made into the truth of the statement that Mussolini ran over a child and did not stop.

"Sounds Like Him."

"It sounds exactly like Mussolini," Heflin said, recalling "I stood here four years ago and related of Italian Masons being murdered at the instance of Mussolini, there were 137 of them in one night if I remember correctly.

"Why should an American general bow down and crawl in the dust to the most red-handed tyrant on earth, Mussolini, the monarch of the old world."

Captain William C. Watts, chief of staff of the Fourth Naval district, Philadelphia, was named judge advocate to prosecute the case for the government.

General Butler has asked Major Henry Leonard, U. S. M. C., retired, an old friend of his service days during the Boxer rebellion, to act as his counsel. Friends of the general expressed belief that John W. Davis, prominent New York lawyer and 1924 democratic presidential nominee, would head the marine officer's counsel.

House Opposes Relief.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—In a whirlwind succession of votes the house today threw its weight behind the administration as senate democrats prepared for a tug of war over relief which may last beyond March 4.

Voting at the end of a day of tense disputes, the house rejected, one after another, five proposals for the government to give $25,000,000 to the needy. Four of them were modifications of the original senate provision to appropriate the fund for the Red Cross.

While the debate ran loud in the house senate democrats issued a relief manifesto which they warned the administration they would go to any limits to fulfill.

Mellon Gets Support.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—The warning of Secretary Mellon that conversion of veterans' compensation certificates into cash would shake the securities market was supported today by J. Herbert Chase and Roy Young, directors respectively of the New York and Boston Federal Reserve banks.

At the same time Senator Moses, (Rep., New Hampshire) predicted "some form" of legislation for conversion would pass at this session and be vetoed by President Hoover.

Chase and Young were called by the house ways and means committee to testify concerning proposals for total or partial redemption of about three and a half billion dollars worth of certificates now held by World war soldiers.

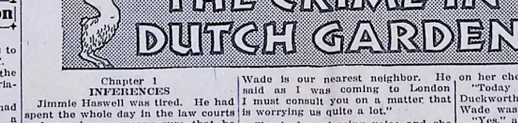
RAILWAY REDUCES PASSENGER FARES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Passenger fares for day coach rides will be reduced to two cents a mile over the entire system of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad.

By the reduced schedule, adopted to curtail the inroads made chiefly by motor busses into the Frisco's traffic, the former standard rate of 2.6 cents per mile is set aside for ordinary traffic and other railroads have announced they will follow suit in competitive territory.

AGED MAN SENTENCED

SPOKANE, Jan. 30. (AP)—J. F. Wright, 84, today was sentenced by Judge Fred H. Witt in superior court to serve 60 days in jail for having liquor in his possession. Testimony showed he was guarding a cache of liquor valued at $3000 when arrested.



Chapter I
INFERENCES

Jimmie Haswell was tired. He had spent the whole day in the law courts and was by no means sure that he was winning the cause on which he was engaged.

As he walked toward his chambers in Nicholls inn the young lawyer was asking himself what the chances were that the case would be finished the next day, while dismally contemplating the prospect that the wretched affair might have to be adjourned or begun all over again.

It was no wonder that his annoyance increased when, upon reaching his chambers, his clerk told him that a lady and gentleman were waiting to see him.

"Who are they?" he asked impatiently.

"They said you wouldn't know their names. They come from your cousin, Mr. Donald Wade."

Not feeling too amiable towards his cousin, Jimmie washed his hands, brushed his obstinate dark hair, and asked for his visitors to be shown into his room.

A girl entered. She was fair and decidedly pretty. Her eyes were blue and her coloring good. He put her age at about 22. The man who followed her apparently was a few years older. He was tall and not bad-looking. His features were regular and his hair was rather long, being brushed back from his forehead without a parting, in the style sometimes affected by artists and actors.

"I am Evelyn Blake. We ought not to trouble you, but I live at Walford near Bradford and your cousin Mr. Wade is our nearest neighbor. He said as I was coming to London I must consult you on a matter that is worrying us quite a lot."

She had a pleasing voice and she smiled as she spoke. Jimmie glanced from her to her companion. She added with a slight blush, "This is my fiance, Mr. Duckworth. He is a singer."

"Donald was sure you could help us," added the girl eagerly. "I have known him all my life and he and his wife came to live near us when they were married, six months ago. He has told us of the mysteries you have cleared up."

"My cousin is young," he remarked, "and full of strange enthusiasms. You must not take all he says seriously."

"But he is quite sure if we told you the facts that are worrying us you would know the right inferences to draw from them."

"One should not rely too strongly on inferences," Jimmie countered, "for often there are several explanations for the little things we observe. For instance. I might suggest that you have just been having a birthday, but I may be entirely mistaken."

The lovers exchanged a look of surprise. "Why do you say that?" asked the man.

"Your gloves are new, your tie is new and your cuff-links have the peculiar brightness of the jeweler's shop. We all wear new things sometimes, but several new things together suggest a celebration."

"I gave him the cuff-links," said Evelyn, the rosy color showing again on her cheeks.

"Today is my birthday," declared Duckworth. "It proves that Donald Wade was right to send us to you."

"Yes," added the girl. "After that, Mr. Haswell, you cannot refuse. May I tell you?"

He bowed and she began her story. He watched her attentively. She was not exactly beautiful, but her features were good and there was considerable firmness in her small mouth. She was undoubtedly a girl who would persevere with whatever she undertook. Failure and discouragement would not daunt her. Yet there was anxiety in her tone, though what she had to say seemed at first hardly to justify it.

"My sister and I live with our aunt, Miss Querdling. She is a wonderful woman, with a very strong nature. She has great determination in opinions of other people. Consequently she is not exactly popular, though she is really very kind and does a great deal of good. Perhaps she has enemies. Anyway she has been receiving threatening letters, anonymous ones of course. They are what we are worrying about."

"What exactly do you mean by threatening letters?" asked Jimmie.

"At first they were vague," answered the girl. "They said that she was to be punished for what she had done. Then they grew more definite and said that she was to be killed."

Her voice dropped as she repeated the terrible words. It seemed that they had undoubtedly shaken her.

"For what she had done," echoed Jimmie. "What had she done?"

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—The stock market shied at its own advances of two to ten points today and closed irregularly with small declines in comparable prices of 90 issues.

Stocks may have found some consolation in the fact that a number of the important earnings statements for 1930 have now been published. For the market of a few volatile issues, however, intensive profit taking swept over the list in the last half hour and gains in leaders dwindled rapidly. Losses were converted into small net declines. Sales approximated 2,200,000 shares.

to make the investment, he declared, unless they were assured of a field given solely to them.

A similar statement was made by D. T. Jones of Pocatello, appearing for the Western Development company, which has received a state franchise to pipe natural gas into southern Idaho.

Senator Holden of Bonneville and Meffan of Canyon, members of the committee said the measure aimed at insuring rights of cities to purchase and operate municipal power plants without supervision of the public utilities commission.

Attorneys protesting the bill insisted the cities already had the right under the present law. Following the hearing a sub committee was appointed to investigate the present law.

FIRE AT D. & D.

Fire, caused by static from the wash machine, about 10:30 o'clock Friday morning burned two belts and scorched the machine at the D. & D. Cleaners on Hotel street before it was controlled by the fire department. No clothes were damaged and the mishap only caused a delay of an hour in the working schedule.

WARD LEASE TO MAKE SHIPMENT

DELTA, Jan. 30. (Special to The Press-Times.)—Some good grade ore is being extracted from the Fannie Gold mine on Trail gulch and will be shipped to the Bunker Hill smelter soon. The property is being operated by the Ward Leasing company, which is employing three men under the direction of Frank Taylor of Wallace.

Miners here state that if there isn't more snow there will be little placer mining on Trail gulch this spring because of water shortage.

VET CARAVAN ON WAY EAST

AVERY, Jan. 30. (Special.)—Twenty-five of the 50 veterans of the World war who left Seattle recently for Washington, D. C., to see President Hoover about the cash bonus were guests of the local Veterans post at dinner in the Mary D. Theriault hotel Thursday. They are beating their way by freight train. They reported that the other 25 were forced to turn back because they were physically unable to undergo the rigors of such a trip.

PINE CREEK MILL IS NOW RUNNING

SPOKANE, Jan. 30. (AP)—Its first milling operations were started by the Pine Creek Lead and Zinc company at the Little Pittsburgh mine on January 26, according to M. L. Savage, president. Except for brief interruptions the operation has been continuous since, he said here today. "The changes were in the classifier," he asserted.

"Everything is satisfactory," he said. "Ore is being put through and concentrate produced. After February 1 operations of the mine and mill will be placed on a scheduled basis. The resources are sufficient to supply the mill."

The plant is of 250 tons daily capacity; it was completed recently and is modern in every detail. The equipment of this producer was financed by a small group of Seattle men. The property is on Pine creek.
